Dear Lisa, I remember how bright and wonderful Michael was, his strong will and opinions, and how puzzling his death was, how shocked we were, how in the dark we were about cyber-bullying and its destructiveness. The awareness that you are creating in our community to both adults and our youth is much needed and appreciated. What our children are doing to each other is a crime whether it is deliberate or lack of awareness to the pain and consequences, so glad you are able to help other families. See Something, Say Something, Do Something! Be BRAVE!

See Something

This is a reality-based conference that will stop you cold in your tracks, and make you aware of what is really happening in our schools, on our streets, and through YOUR computers.

You will leave knowing what to look for, who to consult, and how to assist your child, be it, as the victim, bystander, or bully! This is a no holds barred, get to the bottom of the problem, resolve the situation quickly, effectively and provide a remedy for all involved.

Collaboration is required without judging one another and pointing fingers. Find out how, WE as a community of children, parents, school officials, public safety officers, medical personnel and legislators, can change today's culture of ridicule and insensitivity and instead, take responsibility to protect our children; instill compassion and develop resiliency in this generation; and, guarantee that the world will be a safer, calmer, and healthier place to live.

Say Something

Not all children who are bullied show signs that it is happening. Children who are being bullied often do not report it. If our communities can develop a shared vision about peer abuse and its devastating impact, it will be easier to form a shared vision towards combating it. Our See Something, Say Something, Do Something Peer Abuse Prevention & Intervention Conference workshops are designed to give people tools to reduce peer abuse.

Do Something

In order to facilitate a true shift in school culture it is imperative to change how students perceive peer abuse. The entire student body population must be invested in creating a climate of kindness, one centered on empathy. The bystander effect is a phenomenon that states the more bystanders, the more unlikely that any one of them will say something or do something. The bystander is a student who is witness to peer abuse and remains silent, they do nothing to help solve the problem. Martin Luther King Jr. said, “In the end, we will remember not the words of our enemies, but the silence of our friends” What will it take for you to end the silence and do something?
